RUPES is proud to introduce its first tool using advanced brushless motor technology: the new SKORPIO E random orbital electric sander. SKORPIO E is a compact, silent and innovative orbital sander engineered with perfect ergonomics. The all-new design is comfortable and easy to use and provides optimized maneuverability and balance to ensure precise and efficient sanding results. SKORPIO E is also extremely quiet, extremely lightweight, and operates with low vibration levels to maximize operator comfort and safety. The new brushless sander features key design elements:

- Central vacuum compatible: Skorpion E comes configured for connection to RUPES dust extraction systems, which provide dust-free sanding in a variety of applications
- Speed control dial, with six working speeds: selectable speeds provide versatility, safety and precision control
- Throttle lever: Further refining the ability of operators to control speeds, the lever is perfect for the adjustment of speeds and precision tool operation
- Optimized ergonomics: the innovative design of Skorpion E allows the operator to use the tool in a variety of positions, with one or two hands, for accurate control and comfort.
- Orbit size: Available in either 3 mm or 6 mm orbit
- New multi-hole slim backing pad: The revolutionary RUPES designed backing pad maximizes dust extraction on both horizontal and vertical surfaces.
